PRESS COMMENT

A Sample of Hoover Foresight

There is one fact about Mr. Hoover which the American house-wife, and the man who can househousehold funds, can appreciate without the need of political com-parisons. If Mr. Hoover's recommendations in regard to the pur-chase of the Cuban sugar crop had been followed a year ago, sugar would be selling today for approxi-mately half its present price. Failure to act on Mr. Hoover's advice is costing the American people some-where near $100,000,000 a month. As one of Mr. Hoover's associate-casually remarked of him the other day, he "has a habit of looking would not have been projected. No doubt one reason for the large number of hospitals centered at St. Johnsbury is the large territory in northeastern Vermont and western New Hampshire from which business might be expected to be drawn innsmuch as there are few hospitals in the territory. St. Johnsbury is the natural center for medical and surgical treatment in that wide territory. The Record published an exclusive the property of the same drag and has three children.
